DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed January 15, 2003, has been received and entered. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code, not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-18 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

3. In Paper No. 6, dated February 19, 2002, applicant elected with traverse Group II, claim 6, now including new claims 7-18, chlorogenic acid for species A, and organic acid having a molecular weight of 60 to 300 for species B. The amendment filed January 15, 2003 makes using chlorogenic acid to treat hypertension free of the art because the art does not teach that isolated chlorogenic acid is able to treat hypertension. Therefore, an additional species has been selected for examination. The species selected for examination is caffeic acid for species A and lactic acid for species B.
4. Claims 1-5, 8, 11-14, and 16-18 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention and species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 6.
5. Claims 6, 7, 9, 10, and 15 are examined on the merits.

Claim Objections

6. Claim 10 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 10 does not further limit claim 6 because both have the same limitations for (A).

7. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. Claims 6, 9, 10, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Pat. Appl. No. 04243822 A and US Pat. No. 4,981,852.

Applicant's claims are drawn to a method of treating hypertension using a composition of isolated caffeic acid and lactic acid.

JP '822 teaches using isolated caffeic acid to treat hypertension (see English abstract).

US '852 teaches using lactic acid to treat hypertension (see claims).

These references show that it was well known in the art at the time of the invention to use caffeic acid and an organic acid to treat hypertension. It is well known that it is prima facie obvious to combine two or more ingredients each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose in order to form a third composition which is useful for the same purpose. The idea for combining them flows logically from their having been used individually in the prior art. In re Pinten, 459 F.2d 1053, 173 USPQ 801 (CCPA 1972); In re Susi, 58 CCPA 1074,

Art Unit: 1654

1079-80; 440 F.2d 442, 445; 169 USPQ 423, 426 (1971); In re Crockett, 47 CCPA 1018, 1020-21; 279 F.2d 274, 276-277; 126 USPQ 186, 188 (1960).

Based on the disclosure by these references that these substances are used to treat hypertension, an artisan of ordinary skill would have a reasonable expectation that a combination of the two substances would also be useful in treating hypertension. Therefore, the artisan would have been motivated to combine chlorogenic acid and an organic acid together to treat hypertension. No patentable invention resides in combining old ingredients of known properties where the results obtained thereby are no more than the additive effect of the ingredients. See In re Sussman, 1943 C.D. 518; In re Huellmantel 139 USPQ 496; In re Crockett 126 USPQ 186.

9. As stated above, the use of isolated chlorogenic acid to treat hypertension is considered free of the art. Claim 7 would be allowable is amended to overcome the above claim objection.

10. Please note that regarding election of species MPEP section 803.02 states:

Should applicant, in response to this rejection of the Markush-type claim, overcome the rejection, as by amending the Markush-type claim to exclude the species anticipated or rendered obvious by the prior art, the amended Markush-type claim will be reexamined. The prior art search will be extended to the extent necessary to determine patentability of the Markush-type claim. In the event prior art is found during the reexamination that anticipates or renders obvious the amended Markush-type claim, the claim will be rejected and the action made final. Amendments submitted after the final rejection further restricting the scope of the claim may be denied entry.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 1654

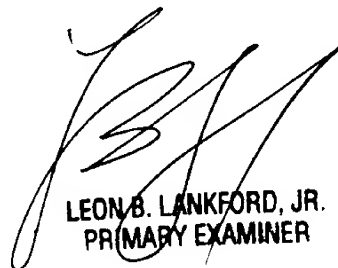

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
